

What are people saying about the Crime Free Lifestyles program?

Homeowners participating in the Crime Free Lifestyles program say the training has added a lot to what they already knew about protecting their residences from crime. Making changes to their homes was not difficult. The training has also motivated them to make the necessary changes to become Crime Free certified.

Careful attention to simple things like locks and lighting, landscaping, fire extinguishers and smoke detectors can go a long way toward making our families, homes and neighborhoods safer.
